
Georgetown vs. Memphis

Two of college basketball's best teams collide on Saturday in hopes to rise to the top. Memphis and Georgetown are ranked exceptionally high so there will be much hype of this extremely important clash. Who is the best team in college hoop's I wonder? This game can prove one team's superiority but one problem is in the way, undefeated North Carolina. At the end of this week either Georgetown or Memphis will prove their need to win. Both march madness teams for sure.

I just don't know if either team is " the best" .:huh:

If I had to put money on a college team right now, the nod would go to UCLA to win it all this year. Team's biggest need past two final four seasons has been the center position. K Love has stepped in, and as a true frosh is averaging double doubles.GREAT defensive team! :angry:
